Executive Summary

Performance Summary

The META advertising campaign generated a total spend of $907.90, yielding 75,990 impressions and 436 clicks, resulting in a CTR of 0.57%. The total actions achieved were 21,067, with a cost per action averaging $6.54.

Notable Trends or Patterns

Gender analysis reveals that male audiences (specifically ages 25-34) contributed significantly with 126 clicks from 23,723 impressions, yet had a high cost per action of $30.76. In contrast, the unknown gender segment achieved the lowest cost per action at $0.44, despite minimal spend.

Actionable Recommendations

- Reallocate budget from high-cost segments, particularly the male audience aged 25-34, to the unknown gender segment, which shows better efficiency in cost per action.
- Enhance targeting strategies for the 18-24 age group, especially males, to improve their CTR and overall engagement.
- Experiment with ad creatives and messaging to increase engagement rates across all demographics, aiming to boost the overall CTR above 1%.
